Today's Exodus:

How Goods for Good is aiding Syrian refugees in camps in Kurdistan and people on the breadline in Israel and Eastern Europe

It's Chai Time You Helped Out, Isn't It?

8pm Thursday 25 May

Presentation
by
ROSALIND BLUESTONE

What can we do for the world's dispossessed? Goods for Good offers a practical response and welcomes support from people of all faiths and none. How does it work? What can you do?

Refreshments: We'll be running a "Kol Chai-style" soup kitchen at this event with home-made soup, bread, cheese and fruit

Free Event

But please bring donations of toiletries - toothpaste, toothbrushes, soap, hygiene products etc. - or packets of new underwear for adults and children.

Inspired by her experience running a highly successful programme for World Jewish Relief for many years, Rosalind Bluestone founded Goods for Good in 2014.
